

BA (Hons) Television & Media Production

Additional Course Costs

Equipment/materials needed	Production equipment is provided for you during the course. You will need a portable USB drive to save and store your work. The drive should be a USB 3.0 and have at least 1TB of memory. As you progress through the course and potentially work with actors then you may also need to pay for their travel, accommodation and food.
Equipment/materials recommended	A lap top (Mac or PC) is recommended. It may be useful to buy your own camera and/or microphone but we would advise you to wait until you have started the course before deciding what model to purchase.
Visits	Non-compulsory visits to film festivals, film production studios and facilities can take place as part of enhancing the educational experience. Advance notice will be given of any associated costs. For example, a visit to BBC Broadcasting House for a tour of the studios followed by a film screening at the BBC Imax is in the region of £45. In most cases, you would be expected to pay your own rail fare to London. You may choose to travel to make your films or when working with actors; expenses associated with this are normally met by the students involved in the project.
