Is NOT an agent but it is worth checking their website

Although one of the above offices isn't actually in Canterbury, they do cover lettings and sales in the area.

Local supermarkets sometimes have community notice boards. We also recommend that you check in the windows of local newsagents and newspapers, as they often carry adverts for local accommodation. The Kentish Gazette and the Canterbury Times are both published on Thursdays.

IMPORTANT

The University for the Creative Arts can accept no responsibility for the Agents listed. The Accommodation Services Officer will not have visited any of the properties advertised through the above Agents, and it is the students' responsibility to check the condition and suitability of any property. Students should ask to see copies of Gas Safety Certificates and check their validity.

Please note that most Letting Agents require a minimum 6 months rental period.

Ensure you check with the Agent what the fees involved are during your initial enquiries.
